Dedication

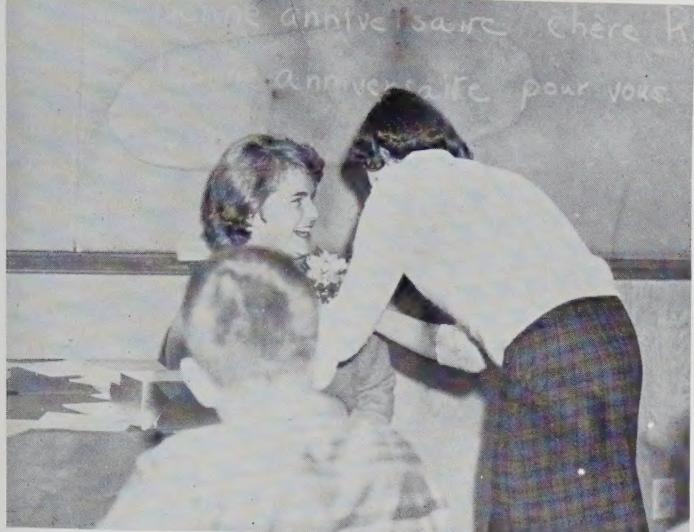

Lawrence Ballman

Thoughtful and considerate is the one whom we have chosen as our Man of the Year. Lawrence Ballman, who came to WHS in the fall of 1956, has won for himself a unique place of admiration among the students and faculty.

He is a scholar, an outstanding scientist of great ability, and a wise counselor, who excels in whatever task he sets out to accomplish.

As head of the WHS photography department, he is always in demand. Although his time is never his own, he manages to live a very active and useful life in the Warrenton community.

French class celebrates Rita's birthday.

WHS Welcomes Rita

The student body of WHS will long remember their first exchange student, Rita Schoenenberger, who came to us from Wil, Switzerland. She has scored tops in all respects. Pretty, sweet, and intelligent with a warm personality - she has become one of the outstanding members of the Senior Class. Her contributions have created a deeper understanding of friendship and good will. We consider ourselves lucky to have had this "Swiss Miss" at our school.

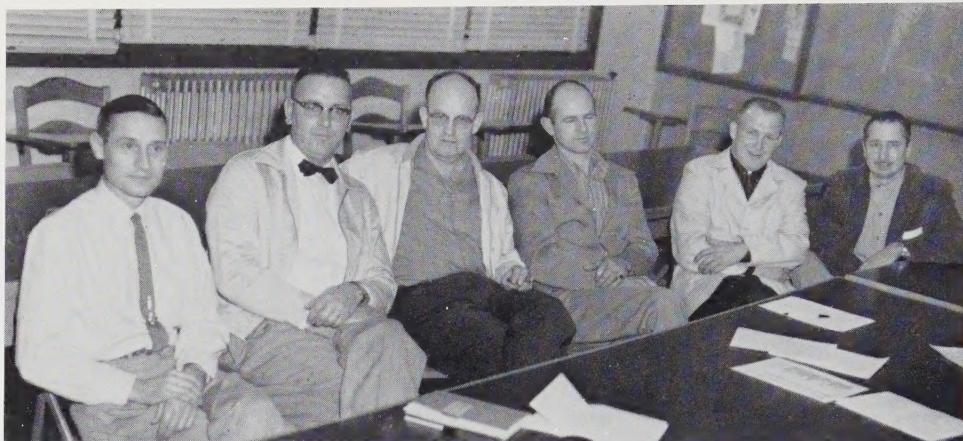

RITA SCHOENENBERGER

"Our Swiss Miss"

Rita Talks with Mr. Knotts and Judie Eward, her American sister.

School Board

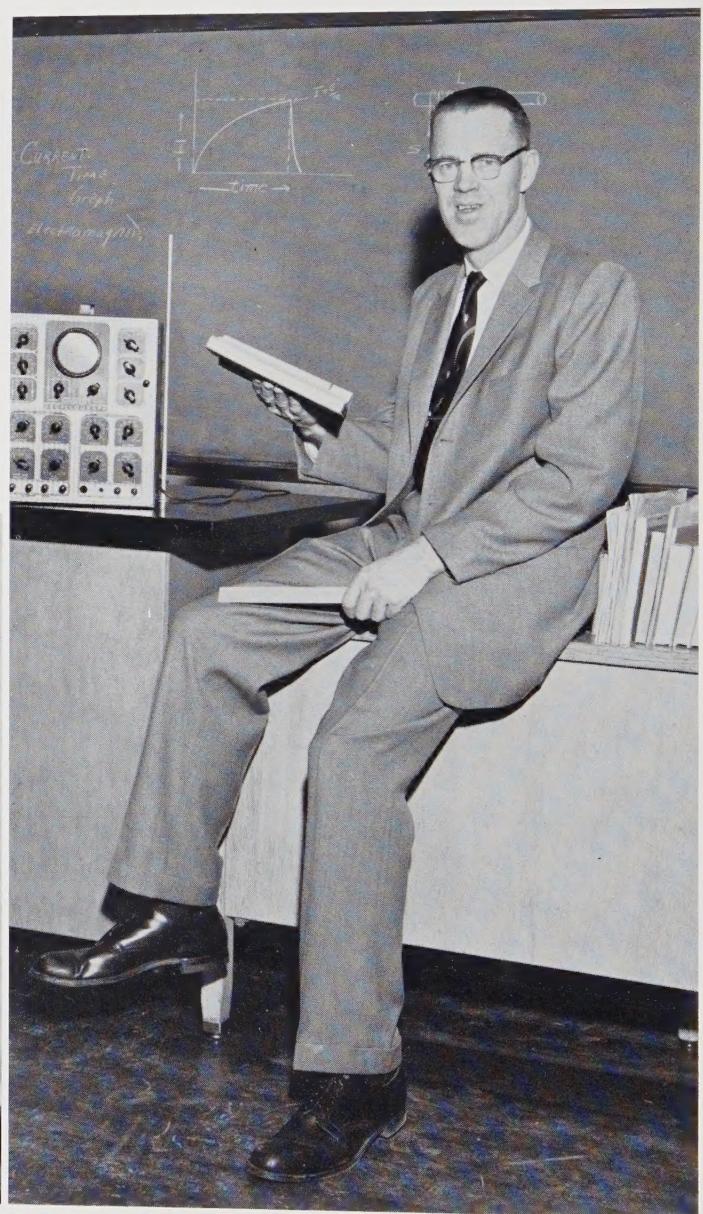

Members of the School Board are Forrest Hensley, clerk; Richard Alsbury, chairman; Darrell Wadsworth; Kenneth Kunkler; Keith Dyer; and Delbert Bodie.

Administration Our Superintendent

Keeping in step with the advances of science as well as teaching physics, Mr. Richard Knotts, our superintendent, helps the students, faculty, and public work together in harmony.

MR. RICHARD B. KNOTTS

Mr. Knotts demonstrates how an oscilloscope produces an electrical wave-form picture.

"May I do something for you?" is the typical warm greeting of Mrs. Thelma Coyle, our office secretary, who has served her Alma Mater faithfully for seven years.

No one can keep track of all her duties, but let her be gone for a day or a week, the entire school is out of focus.

Helping Mr. Knotts find his keys, keeping the school register book, recording student records and report cards, and answering the telephone - her tasks are endless. Yet she keeps that same sweet, even keel that has endeared her to all the students and faculty of WHS.

Mrs. Coyle is assisted by a very efficient office staff, consisting of senior girls.

Office Is Business Center of WHS

Office staff girls are Darlene Hunt, Carolyn Kunkler, Maryellen Buchanan, Mrs. Coyle with Kathy Farrell, Diana Adkins, and Judy Rawls.

Guidance Counselors

The guidance counseling staff, consisting of Mr. Knotts, Mrs. Trullinger, and Mr. Ballman, reviews the ten national tests taken by the students during their four years at WHS. By reviewing the results of these tests, they are able to help the student plan his future wisely.

LOIS PAYNE - English I, II, IV; Advisor of Freshman Class; Director of Class Plays.

STANLEY SCHWABAUER - Social Problems, World History, Orientation and Geography; Basketball, Baseball, and JV Football Coach; Advisor of Freshman Class.

CAROLYN SHEPHERD - English III, Girls' Physical Education; Advisor of Girls' Athletic Association.

ESTHER STALSBROSEN - French, Journalism; Librarian; Advisor of Warrior, Smoke Signal.

WENDELL STAMPS - American History, Mechanical Drawing I, II; Advisor of Sophomore Class.

FLORENCE TRULLINGER - Trigonometry, Geometry, Algebra I, II; Guidance Counselor; Advisor of Sophomore Class.

The catwalk out to the Skipanon River was built during the summer. It is the only way to get to the water pumps on the river. This is the method by which we irrigate the football and baseball fields.

Hard-Working Maintenance Staff Improves WHS

During the summer months, when all the students are away, our maintenance staff works hard to make Warrenton High School a more efficient workshop. The past year has seen improvements in many areas, especially the science department, where new cabinets, shelves, and an air vent have been installed.

Seniors

CLASS OFFICERS, (BACK): Judy Rawls, secretary; Judie Eward, vice-president; Duane Karna, sergeant-at-arms; Kelly Butler, president. (FRONT): Faith Wofford, class representative; Linda Pope, historian; and Don Colby, treasurer.

A Senior is measured for cap and gown.

The Senior Class, the guiding light of WHS, has brightened the path like the rays of the sun through a prosperous and unforgettable year.

The first ray of light fell upon the stage at Warrenton Grade School auditorium as the Seniors performed their annual class skit.

The second ray again fell upon the auditorium when the Seniors expressed their thoughts in actions with the presentation of the 1959-60 Christmas Ball.

The Class Play, Educational Tour, and Skip Day were all accompanied by silver glimmers of promise and future success.

The final ray shone above all, because it was golden. It was the end of the revolving of our guiding light, graduation.

From the beginning to the final turn, our light has cast a glow of hope and a bright outlook for the future.

We now end our four years at WHS with just this thought: "It matters not how LONG you live, but how WELL!"

Under the leadership of President Jon Rowley, the Junior Class rose to higher realization of their abilities. They fought to share top standings at WHS.

Their rise began in autumn with the successful production of the 1959 Homecoming. This enthusiastic class continued the pace to fame throughout the entire school year.

"The Unguided Miss," a play presented by the Class of '61, was one of winter's highlights. Then spring came into view, and again the Juniors blossomed with exceptional work on the Prom.

All Juniors agreed that their advisors, Mrs. Ashmore and Mr. Atkins, were a great asset to the success of their class.

Throughout the halls of WHS, forty-four new faces lurk. They belong to the Freshman Class, a group of young students, led by their president, Pat Broderick. A successful dance, supervised by their advisors, Miss Payne and Mr. Schwabauer, started them off with a good name, as well as a little money. Other money-making projects, a clever skit, and good sense boosted them on their way to great achievements.

Academics

*Students concentrate

WHS Offers Wide Field in Math

WHS offers a good grounding in mathematics. It is basic to many jobs today. The beautiful part of math is that it helps the student to think things out logically and to solve the problems of the modern world with the proper use of the tools of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

The culturing of micro-organisms is a project of biology.

Science is responsible for the tremendous advancements of the world in recent years. The science department of WHS took giant strides forward with new equipment installed this year. This resulted with an increase of students enrolled in science courses. In their hands, lies the future of the world.

In chemistry, the separation of gases is a challenge.

Science Enrollment Grows

Physics students are interested in equilibrium of rigid bodies.

Students concentrate on typing drill.

Office training demands accuracy.

Office Training Opens

Door to Business World

Shorthand is essential for secretarial work.

Great opportunities can be found in the business world. Competition is keen. To secure adequate preparation, students at Warrenton High School are taught to carry out their tasks reliably and efficiently, and to accept responsibility.

Typing, Business machines, office training, shorthand, and bookkeeping are offered at our high school. Students look forward to opportunities of employment with a background of good training.

Arts and Crafts, Homemaking Require Skill

Using creative imagination, the art students enhance our school with displays of their hand-crafts. The growth of interest in art at the hobby level has been one of the outstanding achievements this past year.

Because the crafts are "useful arts," the designer-craftsmen's work is in demand. He can earn a good living with the proper training.

Our lives are made more enjoyable because of the production of the craftsman, and our need for the things he makes give him an opportunity for a livelihood.

Inspired artists express themselves.

Learning to become a good homemaker.

Cooking is an art.

Studying a model letter.

French students help Rita celebrate birthday.

Language Arts Enrich School Program

Learning to love and appreciate good books is but one of the advantages offered in literature courses at WHS. Language arts stress the attainment of skill in writing, speaking good English, and understanding the lasting values to be gained through a study of our heritage of good literature.

Hearing French spoken by a native from Switzerland was the privilege of the French class this year. Rita Schoennenberger, our foreign exchange student, added much enjoyment and fun to the acquiring of a foreign language.

Business English is a very important subject because it helps the student to develop control and sureness in the use of words and to acquaint him with primary business procedure. He is also able to establish central principles underlying effective letters and to familiarize himself with simple business problems. By studying letters, he can get a better understanding of people.

Completing book reports just before the bell.

Processing books for circulation.

Library Keeps Books Circulating

Journalism and library work hand in hand to train students on how to handle news, read newspapers, and write good stories.

The library has an excellent supply of current magazines, which are in great demand by the students.

The local bookmobile provides a fresh supply of reading material every two weeks. This service is highly appreciated.

A misplaced book is easily found by library assistants.

The journalist must have a good vocabulary before writing a news story.

Preciseness is the basic factor in Mechanical Drawing.

Shop students learning to use helpful tools.

Radio class is offered at WHS.

Physical Education Keeps Bodies in Shape

Physical education not only builds strong bodies, but challenges mental alertness. The ability to work together as a unit is emphasized in P. E. at WHS.

Rope climbing is one of many methods for building strong muscles.

Yippee! A basket!

Freshmen study U. S. relief map.

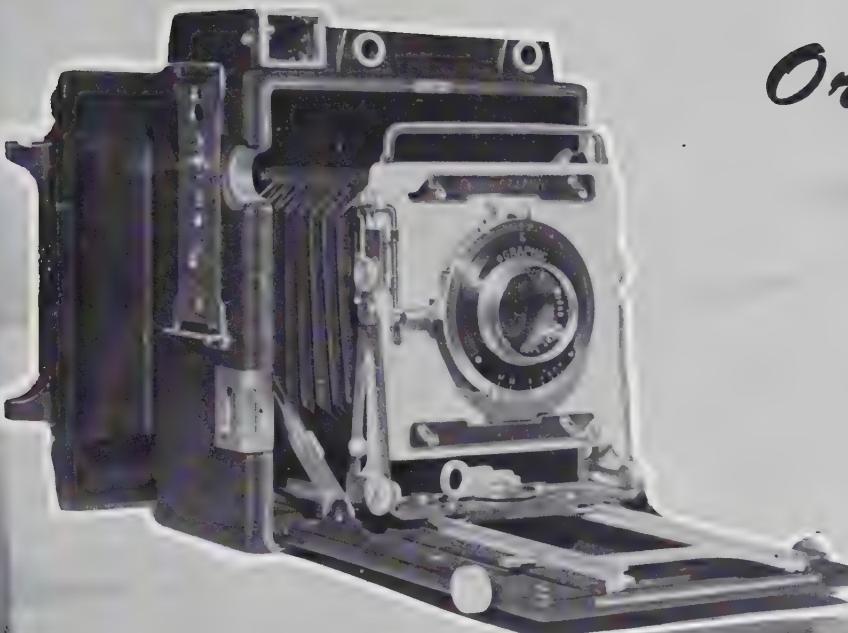

Gathering information for career notebooks.

History Broadens Understanding of World Affairs

Our American History and Orientation and Geography classes give the students a greater appreciation of our country and its position among the nations of the world. The Social Economics students study problems of American democracy and current events.

World map intrigues American History students.

Student Council Works for Unity

Student council activities provide many opportunities for all students to cooperate with the student leaders and school officials to make school citizenship more meaningful. This year our student council was busy rewriting our school constitution and organizing assemblies and various activities. Functioning as a team, they have brought about more understanding between students and faculty.

After members have signed in, they receive their gold pins.

President Linda See and advisor, Mrs. Baldwin, prepare for installation.

Members of this national group is limited to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. They are chosen by the faculty on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, service and citizenship. Their grade point average must always be above 3.00. Raising money for the March of Dimes is a yearly project planned by this organization.

Girls' League

Carolyn Kunkler receives Girl of the Month bracelet from President Linda Hayes.

Girls' League, under the capable leadership of President Linda Hayes, entered into an era of prosperity. Money rolled in as the girls took charge of the sandwich booth.

Every girl in school is a member of the league.

Mrs. Ashmore, their popular advisor, directed them through various activities year around.

The sandwich booth became their source of income.

Girls' Athletic Association

G.A.A., an organization headed by President Sandi Plyter, is a group of athletically inclined girls, who participate in all kinds of sport-like activities.

A member can earn a letter if she earns 50 points during the year.

The club, advised by Mrs. Shepherd, held a successful after-game dance in the winter.

Officers of G.A.A. are: Mary Van, sports head; Sylvia Watson, vice-president; Sandi Plyter, president; Melinda Guderian, sergeant-at-arms; Maryellen Buchanan, bowling secretary; Darlene Hunt, secretary; Norma Herglund, vice-secretary; and Carolyn Kunkler, treasurer.

Rotating editors of the Smoke Signal are Nancy Rawls, Karen Young, Judie Eward, and Ken Doney.

Smoke Signal Staff

A first-year journalism class worked hard to attain the standards set by their predecessors.

A new mimeograph machine, donated to the school by the Class of '59, made the production of the Smoke Signal a pleasure.

Other members of the staff include Jo Curtis, Melinda Guderian, Anne Hamilton, Kelly Butler, Marion Stocker, Keith Soukkala, and Susan Dunnigan.

Keith Soukkala and Robert Winebrenner were in charge of production.

Warrior Staff

What a struggle it was to meet those deadlines! The Warrior Staff, led by Editor Don Colby, worked long and hard throughout the year to make the yearbook a living picture of the past school year.

Assisting the group were Mrs. Stalsbroten, advisor, and Mr. Ballman, head of the photography department.

Teamwork Is the Key to Homecoming Success

Queen Linda See and King Roy Stilwell reigned over the 1959 Homecoming.

Traditional activities began with the serpentine starting from Warrenton's business district and ending at the high school, where the pep rally was held, with a huge bonfire in the background. The coaches and football team members gave speeches about the game being held the next day.

To make this year's Homecoming even more memorable, the Warriors downed Vernonia 20-0.

The dance climaxed the gala event. The theme "Down By The Old Mill Stream" was carried out in a setting with a mill, surrounded by moss and ivy vines.

The Royal Court consisted of Princesses Cathy Farrell, Judie Eward, Faith Wofford, Patty Jo Gaither and Prince Galen Trumbo, Henry Willener, Grant Ely, and Kelly Butler.

The auditorium filled with students, faculty, and alumni broke into loud applause as the King and Queen were announced.

The Junior Class, in charge of the festivities, displayed teamwork, effort, and enthusiasm. The carefully planned Homecoming was declared a success.

MISS LOIS PAYNE,
Director

Last minute touches are applied by the make-up department.

The enthusiastic performance of "The Unguided Miss" given by the members of the junior play cast brought to the community the trials and highlights of our student exchange program. Putting all their efforts and hidden talents to work, the Juniors presented a humorous, teenage comedy.

The members of the cast admit that the diligent patience of director, Miss Lois Payne, was responsible for the success of their play.

Warriors Have Rough

Warrior defense zeros in on Estacada ballcarrier.

Team captain Galen Trumbo was elected to the All-Cowapa League Second Team. His accomplishments have been rewarding to the team. He averaged over six and a half yards per carry during the season.

The 1959 Football Season ended with the Warriors looking over a 2-7 record, but the records don't always tell the tale. Stricken by injuries and inexperience, they still showed their superiority at full strength with impressive wins over Vernonia and Hood River.

The future varsity team should be better in the years to come because of experience that they are building up by being on the junior varsity squad. Experience is something that the whole team lacked this year.

The JV team had a record of one win and three losses. They beat Knappa 19-6, but lost to Astoria 13-6 and to Seaside 35-7 and 13-6.

Exhausted Warriors await Coach Greenlee's half-time briefing.

"Up To Your Ears" Staged

The Senior Class play headed the long list of spring activities. "Up To Your Ears," a comedy in three acts, was directed by Miss Lois Payne. With the fine co-operation of the cast and production staff, the play was hailed as a great achievement of the class.

Spring Bursts With Activity Trip to Salem

Early in April the entire Senior Class, along with chaperones Mr. Greenlee and Mr. Schwabauer, made the annual trip to Salem. On the way they stopped in Portland and visited Jantzen, Inc. After arriving in Salem, the class toured Fairview Home. Concluding the long day the students shopped in Portland before returning home.

Soukkala runs the mile in 4:58.6!

Through loss of graduating Seniors and transfers, the WHS ball club was hurt tremendously. As defending champions of the league, there were only five upperclassmen. However, there were some outstanding players on the young team. Senior Terry Gramson was selected as all-star pitcher on the Cowapa League western division team. Sophomore John Mowick was all-star utility and Junior Dave Henry was honorable mention infielder.

In a close contest, the Warriors edged Seaside 4-2. Seaside ended up with the league title and eventually became the A-2 Baseball Champions.

Track

This year's track squad competed in several meets. Although there were no Seniors or returning lettermen on the team, Coach Darrell Greenlee's runners showed surprising strength in the long distance runs. One of the season's highlights took place in the mile run when Keith Soukkala (Sophomore) toured the route in 4:58.6 at Seaside.

Lettermen this year included Soukkala, Juniors Jon Rowley and Frank Mattila, and Sophomore Bob Bronson. Other members of the squad were: Don Matteson, Ike Kempt, Leonard Shultz, Leon Fromong, Paul Depping, Lowell Ford, Tim Shultz, Mike Thompson, Earl Van, Pat Broderick, Ben Valley and Harry Stauf.

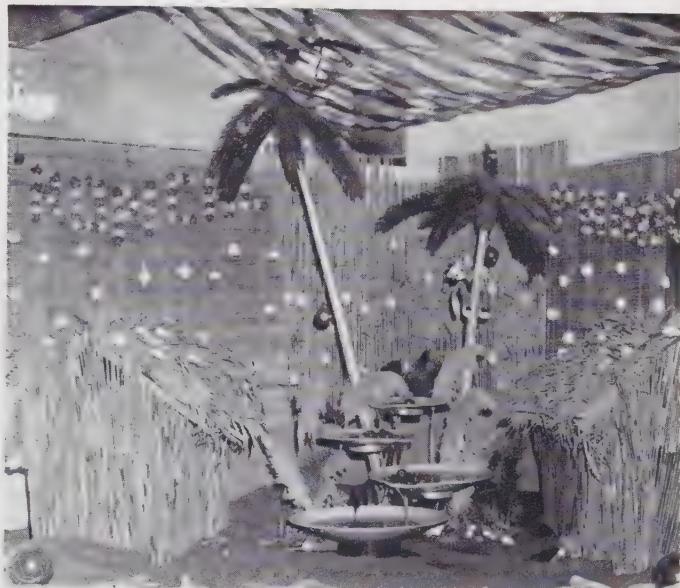

The banquet was the first event of the evening.

Lively music added to the enjoyment.

Prom Captures "Tropical Paradise"

One of the final events of the school year was the successful Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet held at the Gearhart Hotel. The Senior Class Will and Prophecy were read at the banquet.

Queen Rita Schoenenberger and King Paul Williamson reigned over the evening's festivities. Everyone enjoyed dancing in a Tropical Paradise.

The decorations harmonized with the theme.

The beauties of nature were viewed on the way.

"Put on your shoes and let's go skiing."

The Senior Class departed from WHS to encounter the snowy slopes of Mt. Hood on their 'skip day.'

The weather turned into a blizzard as the caravan of cars climbed the mountain on their way to Timberline Lodge.

At the lodge, the students found all kinds of things to do - skiing, tobogganining, and swimming. The well-organized trip resulted in a memorable day.
